

Is about ...

A diagram consisting of two horizontal boxes at the top, one blue on the left and one orange on the right. Two curved arrows connect them: one from the blue box to the orange box, and one from the orange box back to the blue box. Below the blue box is a large, light blue rounded rectangular area. Below the orange box is a large, yellow rounded rectangular area.

So what? What is important to understand about this?